

passed into laws

not adopted for various reasons⁴

not yet considered in committees or in the Parliament⁵ prepared for the second reading⁶ sent for repeated first reading adopted but not signed by the President or the Speaker of Parliament

The above infographic shows that one in eight draft laws is passed into law and one in three is rejected. Almost half of the registered draft laws are still being processed in the designated committees, and no decision has been made on them.

⁴ 499—withdrawn, 132—returned for improvement, 36—withdrawn and excluded from consideration; 162—heard and excluded from consideration; 27—proposals taken into account by the committee during the improvement stage.

⁵ 1195—under consideration in committees, 371—await consideration, 11—consideration postponed; 6—draft received.

⁶ 101 draft laws are currently at the stage of the second reading. Of these, 29 are waiting for the second reading, 70 are being prepared for the second reading, and 2 are being prepared for repeated second reading.